SCIENCE DAY

The whole school had an exciting day on Wednesday for our annual Science Day. This year our theme matched the British Science Week theme of 'Time' and there were lots of interesting experiments and activities taking place across school.

- Reception were investigating how shadows are made and how they fall outside in different directions at different times of day, depending on the position of the sun before they made their own creative shadow puppets.
- Year 1 and 2 completed fair tests to compare different jellies containing different fruits to see which would set first. We had some great, thoughtful predictions for this!
- Year 3 were studying how sundials were used as an ancient way of measuring time and along with Year 4 were investigating how mould grows over time and created posters to advise the public on the actions they can take to reduce their risk of mould exposure.
- Year 5 were studying how animals have adapted over time to allow their species greater survival rates and Year 6 were learning about the technological advancements made to the agricultural industry and thought about what further inventions might be needed for the future.

All year groups had a go at making a water clock to see if it is an accurate time telling device and of course, our Science Day wouldn't be complete without a special science assembly, this year from Mad Science, who showed us some exciting experiments linked to inventions and discoveries over time.

All children have brought home a science competition to design a poster all about time. The best 5 poster entries will be entered into the official British Science Week poster competition which is running in a few weeks time. Good Luck Stanley!

Operation Encompass now operates throughout Lancashire police force. It helps police and schools work together to provide emotional and practical help to children. The system ensures that when police are called to an incident of domestic abuse, where there are children in the household who have experienced the domestic incident, the police will inform the school (Miss Manson) before the child or children arrive the following day. This ensures that the school has up to date relevant information about the child's circumstances and can enable support to be given to the child.
